SINGING IN THE RAIN — Withstanding the pouring rain, the seniors prepare to sing the alma mater at the bonfire.

PICTURESQUE VIEW — Roger Williams focuses in on a Journalism Broadcasting project.

SUPERMAN — Flying across the bridge, Paul Bishop tries to imitate his favorite superhero.

ON TOP OF THE SITUATION — Mark Roberson holds the upper hand in the locker area.

We had waited, worked, and at last we had earned our place — First in Line. Our ambition to maintain our position made us continually strive to achieve a goal which was never second best.

There were many firsts within CHS. The 1985 Senior Class was the first class to complete all four years at the present building. For the first time, we sponsored a team to participate in the prestigious Academic Decathalon. In addition, extra-ambitious students were rewarded for the first time with academic jackets.

Along with the "good" firsts, the students needed extra effort to take another first in stride. The mere mention of the words "House Bill 72" brought a grimace to the faces of students and teachers alike.

Nevertheless, CHS handled the new regulations brought about by the bill like true champions.

Regardless of the obstacles we had to overcome, we all knew we had a common goal, to remain First in Line in whatever we did.

SHOOTING THE BREEZE — Susan Scott and Coach Sue Donahoe discuss the day's events.

SIGN OF THE TIMES — After spending a long day decorating for Homecoming, several seniors proudly display their class claim.

Not only did we know that we were First in Line, but others realized that we were the top dogs, too. We gained recognition in both academics and sports.

We exhibited our pride in academic pursuits in several ways. We participated in UIL Academic and Literary contests and won individual events. For example, Darla Youngblood showed that perfection can be attained by winning first place in Typing at the Pine Tree UIL Meet by turning in a perfect paper. We also showed our pride by keeping a high number of students on the honor roll list. However, students were not the only ones who did their very best. Teachers also got in on the act. For example, Mr. T. A. Crow was named as one of the Outstanding Physics teachers in the state.

In sports we astounded fans with amazing passes, incredible rebounds, and unbelievable homeruns. We especially gained recognition in football by having several players named to the All-District Team and winning the district crown. In fact, the Most Valuable Offensive Player, Kemmy Henderson, the Most Valuable Defensive Player, Vernon Hicks, and Coach of the Year, Sleepy Reynolds, were all from Carthage.

Obviously, CHS proved that it was First in Line in every aspect of school activities.

BREAKING AWAY — Oth Amy gains a first down despite being held in the clutches of a Palestine defensive back.

OUR LIPS ARE SEALED — Jason Ballenger, Todd Griffith, Billy Brent, and Todd Bogenschutz stand behind their word that a secret is safe with them.

HANDSOME REWARDS — For their academic endeavors, twenty-one seniors were rewarded with academic letter jackets.

WHO'LL BE THE LUCKY ONE — Several CHS football players play "pass the lips" to see who will win a kiss from the mystery guest.

Doing It in Style CHS SPIRIT

It's Friday afternoon and the spirit has been building all week. The afternoon holds promises of cheers, music, pep talks, and the much awaited spirit awards.

Each pep rally held new and different surprises, each with a theme to tie in with the week's game. For example, when the Gladewater game came around, several of the football players went on a "Bear Hunt" with the cheerleaders dressed in camouflage. At another pep rally, in order to gain spirit and increase student body participation, each class chose a representative to climb the spirit ladder to their target, everyone's favorite teachers.

When referring to spirit, one must not forget everyone who participated in buying chains and contributed to the money jars to increase student body spirit.

And last, but certainly not least, one must remember the loyal fans in connection with school spirit. These were the people who backed the Bulldogs through thick and thin, come rain or shine.

Therefore, the enthusiasm and the morale-boosting spirit of the CHS Pep Rallies and fans led the Bulldogs to be "First in Line."

GETTING A PIECE OF THE ACTION — Teachers Wayne Robinson, Paula LaGrone, and Karen Reeves are subjected to the punishment of a cream pie after student body spirit pushes representatives Kim Weatherford, Greg Whitsett, and Shannon Smith up the spirit ladders.

CLAIM TO FAME — An optimistic Bulldog mascot, Theresa Jackson, presents her high hopes for the CHS Team.

AND THE WINNER IS — Mike Jones is the most fortunate of all when he receives his big kiss from the mystery cheerleader at one of the Pep Rallies.

SPARE TIME SPIRIT — Band members Regina Fleming, Terri Burnaman, and Becky Stokes join in cheers to lead the Dogs to victory in between band performances.

DO WHAT? — Kelly Parker tells Nina Walker just what to do with all of her spirit balloons.

WAY TO GO GUYS! — Coaches Sleepy Reynolds, Chuck Harrison, and Bill Pickens express their excitement at a CHS victory.

Students at C.H.S. go all out

NERDS — Lee Anne Taylor and Dana Ritter model their favorite fashions.

YOU HOSER! — Darrik Hooper and Dwayne Yount came down from Canada for Spirit Week.

An Exciting Day

Homecoming was a week full of busy activity. Dress-up day, building the bonfire, and receiving mums added to the excitement.

What a day! Any vistors to CHS on Thursday, October 11, would surely have been shocked. Space creatures, clowns, and living Cabbage Patch dolls roamed the halls that day. Dress up day was at hand, and everyone let their hair down!

After school, members from Key Club and FFA began to compile a huge bonfire. The work took all afternoon, but no one complained; all were in the Homecoming spirit.

Shortly after dark the fire was lit, the cheerleaders cheered, and the band played. As is tradition, the seniors then circled the bonfire, holding hands, to sing the Alma Mater. Soon after the seniors finished, the clouds gave way and a huge rainstorm was the grand finale of the 1984 Homecoming bonfire.

DINING IN STYLE — Kim Weatherford, Stephanie Johnson, Amy Abernathy, Belinda Bostick, Brenda Sepaugh, Karen Ross, Stephanie Williams, and Sonja Soape dressed as characters ranging from clowns to babies on Spirit Day.

during Spirit Week

NIFTY FIFTIES — Lori Rhiddlehoover, Jason Ballenger, Kelly Parker, and Becky Stokes dressed as teenagers from another era on Spirit Day.

SUPER MUM — This giant mum made by the freshman class would make any girl proud. It was displayed in the commons area during Spirit Week.

BOY GIA — Gia Pounders portrayed the flamboyant rock star Boy George, complete with braids, on Spirit Day.

LOYAL HENDERSON FANS? — No way!! Mark Roberson, Kelly Parker, Mike Jones, Jack Smith, Eric Allen, and Jon Almeida add a Henderson road sign to the bonfire.

LITE BRITE — The Homecoming bonfire flamed on brilliantly after the crowd departed the pep rally.

Rhiddlehoover First in Line

On Friday afternoon, October 12, football players as well as fans were praying for a clear sky. It was Homecoming night, and the forecast was rain. A slight rainfall that afternoon had everyone worried, but was short lived. When seven o'clock rolled around, the field was only slightly damp, and spirits were soaring.

A little after seven o'clock, five luxury cars driven by Jack Smith, Chris Smith, Todd Thompson, Donny Wills, and Clint Matthews began their journey around the track at Martin Stadium. From the cars emerged senior duchesses Lori Rhiddlehoover, escorted by Mike Jones; Felicity Fair, escorted by Duane Gee; and Angela Collins, escorted by Willie Lynch; and junior duchesses Audrey Tate, escorted Jon Almeida; and Denise Marry, escorted by Kemmy Henderson.

As introductions were made, the crowd waited in anticipation for the big moment. After a few moments, Paul Brewster, Student Council President, accompanied by Karen Wooten Tarjick, last year's Homecoming Queen, began the long awaited walk across the football field to the new queen, Lori Rhiddlehoover. A happy smile greeted the roses presented by Paul and the crown given by Karen as the crowd cheered.

When the queen and her court departed the field, the game against Henderson began. The Bulldogs tied with the Lions 6-6, but on Homcoming night, 1984, Lori Rhiddlehoover was first in line.

Working For The Weekend

After all of the whole hectic week came to an end, students anxiously awaited the last bell. As it sounded, everyone ran to their cars and the weekend had begun. It seemed as though everyone had their weekend planned and "uptown" was the place to be!

Everyone knows that to start the weekend properly, dinner was a must at one of the local eating emporiums. This was followed by going to a movie or just finding your friends and riding through town. The show parking lot and the Winn Dixie parking lot were also major attractions on a Friday or Saturday night. But no weekend was complete without a nightly trip to the Sonic for a Coke. Then it's back through town for a finale of the evening.

Darla Youngblood, junior, said, "My favorite thing to do on the weekends is going to the show and out to eat with John."

Some people used their weekends to get out of town and relax.

"I like to go out of town on weekends," said sophomore, Vicki McElroy.

So whatever it may have been that you enjoyed doing on the weekend, it was certain that none could wait for their weekend to begin.

REBEL YELL — Toni Rider shows how she releases her tension built up at C.H.S. the past week.

CHEERS — Mark Davis, Todd Bogenshutz, Todd Thompson, and Mark Roberson know that the way to have fun on the weekends is to eat, drink, and be merry.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT — Freshmen Kim Smith and Angie Skelton can't believe they actually get to come up town.

I JUST CAN'T DECIDE — Melissa Blissett and Stephanie Robinson sit pondering over the menu at the Pizza Hut.

DO I HAVE TO EAT THIS? — James Medlin tells Chris Medlin to quit eyeing the girls so that they can go home.

FILL 'ER UP! — Lorie Langlotz starts off the evening by putting gas in the car so she can ride around.

JUST SITTING AROUND — Trela Thomas, Cande Centers, and Julie Escoe have a blast just sitting at the Sonic wondering who will come by.

ALL SMILES — Jimmy Chesire and Clint Matthews wonder what could be more fun than a night on the town.

A Winter Wonderland Students play and create

When students awoke on Friday morning, February 1, they were greeted by yards full of white powder. It had snowed all night and continued to snow lightly throughout the day.

Some students built snow sculptures, had snowball wars, and sledded behind automobiles. Others took shelter inside their homes not enjoying the wintry weather. The precipitation continued all weekend and school did not begin again until Wednesday, February 6. Most students were ready to get back into their normal schedules by that time, so most people didn't complain about the unexpected holiday coming to an end.

WATCH OUT — Whitney Reese prepares to hurl a snowball at someone.

READY FOR A ROUGH RIDE — Felecity Fair gets ready to ride a sled down the road behind a friend's truck. Hang on Felicity!

MASTERPIECE — An area yard holds a new version of a snowman.

Splash Into Summer Skiers invade the lake

WHAT A SHOW-OFF! — Shannon Smith slices through the water.

SHOOT THE SPRAY! - Virgil Wedgeworth takes his turn at

WOMAN POWER - Stacie Griffith proves to the guys that girls can ski

As soon as the weather hit 65°, the lake crowd hit Murvaul. The students braved the freezing water to be seen at one of the most popular summer hangouts in the area.

The beach and the fellowship was enough for the sun worshippers, but only the thrill of gliding across the water could satisfy "The Ski People!"

The spray and the sunshine were the best feelings in the world to these lake lovers, and they would be seen nowhere except the lake after the first warm day of spring.

The tradition continues at Murvaul every year, but the excitement lingers still.

Winners at Pine Burr Assembly were of a Special Order

Poodle skirts, bobby socks, rolled-up socks, and penny loafers abounded on stage when the CHS students assembled to honor Pine Burr Awards winners. In addition to honoring the students, the staff also paid tribute to the Drive-In of the 50's. Consequently, winners were announced by describing their secret fantasy, future plans, and of course their favorite Sonic food.

At the beginning of the assembly, Mrs. Bonnie Pope was presented the Pine Burr Dedicatee Award by Mrs. Karen Reeves and Mrs. Paula LaGrone on behalf of the Pine Burr staff.

The staff recognized Mrs. Pope because of her involvement and dedication. Along with her regular classroom activities, she is an FTA sponsor, a senior sponsor, and in charge of potty patrol.

Mrs. Pope's working day doesn't stop at 3:20 either. After she drives the 27 miles to her house, she works at the dairy barn, rides horses, and takes care of her house, her husband and her three children.

"She is really concerned about students and their education. The only thing more important to her than school is her family," Mrs. Reeves said.

Southern Nights

A New Orleans scene, and old-fashioned riverboat, lattice work trimmed with Spanish moss and flowers, tall, white columns, and silver stars gave the Jr.-Sr. Banquet and the Prom held on May 18 the atmosphere of "Southern Nights." The banquet which featured a steak and baked potato dinner was enjoyed by CHS juniors and seniors. Following the banquet, seniors and their dates danced the night away at the Prom until breakfast was served at 1:00 am.

WORN OUT — Napoleon Davis insists to Stephanie Woods that he is simply too tired to dance anymore.

FORMAL ATTIRE — Tyrone Burroughs and Pambula Allison leave the banquet with smiles on their faces after enjoying a steak dinner.

BELLES OF THE BANQUET — Leaving the Jr.-Sr. Banquet, Samantha Hill and Belinda Taylor show off their pretty formals.

SUAVE AND DEBONAIR — Mike Murphy demonstrates the proper way to hold a cane to Kandi Wallace.

CRETS — Kathleen Johnson lls Don Gradberg a private joke.

MIXED EXPRESSIONS — The faces of Denise Marry, Kemmy Henderson, Steven Allison, and Annette Briggs show how they feel about the time they are having at the prom.

Graduation Seniors are first in line

On May 24, the Class of 85 made their way onto the field at Martin Stadium as the Bulldog Band played the traditional graduation march, "Pomp and Circumstance". A large crowd of underclassmen and relatives of graduates sat in silence as Becky Stokes made the salutatory and the CHS choir and band performed "No Man is an Island". After Kay Lynn Vincent gave the valedictory, the presentation of diplomas began. The Class of 85 sang the "Alma Mater" one last time, and then they tossed their caps into the air. Amid happy smiles and tears of joy, the graduates were congratulated by friends, relatives, and classmates after the ceremony. As Kay Lynn had stated, the future was theirs.

GETTING READY — Ethel Postell helps Laurie Harvey make last minute preparations to march into the stadium.

ANTICIPATION — Diann McGuire and Dawn McFadden eagerly await their turn to begin the walk onto the football field.

FIRST IN LINE — Barbara Allison receives the first diploma from M Brady at the graduation ceremony as Mr. LaFollette looks on.

QUIET MOMENT — Annette Coleman and Brandy Chandler silently effect on their years at Carthage High School as they march in.

IAPPY GRADUATES — James Gage receives a warm hug from a lassmate after the graduation ceremony has ended.

REMINISCING — Kim Weatherford and Stephanie Johnson remember all the good times they've had together through the years.

CONGRATULATIONS! — Kendra Miller doesn't seem thrilled to be hugged by a well-wisher; her thoughts are on the future.

THE LAST HURRAH — The Class of '85 throw their caps to the sky in expression of their joy.

Dogs capture winning season with a 9-2-1 record

Coach Reynolds called it "a rarity in Carthage football," but like the monk says in the Xerox commercial, it looked like a miracle.

As Carthage crushed Atlanta for the fifth time in three years, the Bulldog offense made only one slight mistake in handling the football — a fumble on the opening kickoff — that was quickly retrieved, otherwise they clung to the ball as if it were gold and won the game 25-15 for a season opener.

Next the Dogs were off to Gladewater. For Carthage it was a tough loss that ruined their No. 6 rating in AAAA by the Harris Rating System. On defense the Dogs played awfully hard but not too smart. Carthage didn't make many changes after half-time except that they began stacking things upon the line of scrimmage. Finally, quarter-back Paul Brewster took to the air in desperation and Carthage scored with a pass to Otis Amy for a 35-yard touchdown. The Dogs tried for two but failed. The game ended, Carthage 6 — Gladewater 18.

San Augustine found the Carthage defense much too tough. They had several opportunities to deadlock the game near the end of each half, yet they failed; Carthage winning 7-0. Kemmy Henderson completed a 47-yard run with Jeff Etheredge kicking the extra point to bring about the win.

Now Carthage was ready to face Mt. Pleasant, their first AAAA team this season. The team stats were close, but the Dogs managed to score with 1:07 left to play. The Bulldogs had an odd first half — trailing 10-0. The second half was a totally different story. It was superb offensive show. There were so many big offensive plays the team could hardly recount them. This was pretty close to a miracle, but the Dogs pulled it off beating Mt. Pleasant 27-23.

Carthage turned over the ball three times on fumbles so that Center wouldn't fall too far behind before the half. The Bulldogs had to spend the second half fighting for their lives. They managed to live — killing Center 29-22.

Pitching the ball around like it was covered with grease, Carthage coughed up six fumbles; losing all but two to an aggressive Lion defense that dominated the line of scrimmage. Henderson's defense kept the Bulldogs' explosive attack well contained throughout the game. When the Bulldogs committed their fifth turnover late in the game, the Lions scored and forced a 6-6 tie in the 8-AAAA south zone opener.

Kemmy Henderson and Otis Amy combined their rushing talents in the Carthage backfield for the first time this season. The results were devastating as Carthage mangled Chapel Hill 43-0. Carthage had one touchdown called back by penalty and they missed a close field goal. The Dogs did not really try to push the score higher when they had the chance during the second half. Mark Roberson completed all the extra points.

Zone Champions — Bulldogs extend playoff streak

The Bulldogs won a victory over Athens, 9-6, putting them in second place in the south zone. The field was a pigsty from end zone to end zone after several days of heavy rain. The field was several inches thick of mud. Coach Reynolds said, "It was not our kind of field. We were glad to leave after our sixth win to eight outings." The game was an allout war and was constantly a struggle for possession of the ball. The Bulldogs managed to get the ball just enough — winning 9-6.

The Bulldogs turned the ball over eight times on fumbles and once on a pass interception to give Palestine little glimmers of hope, here and there. The bulldog defense was never more awesome, and the offense still racked up 454 yards to annihilate the Wildcats 27-3. When the game was over, Palestine proved they couldn't handle defeat; almost starting a war at mid-field. Mike Jones was attacked several times during the game, then again during the after-game hand shakes — sending him to the ground in pain.

Kemmy Henderson and Paul Brewster put on a dazzling show against Jacksonville. The Bulldogs had nothing to make up for this year. They just made things better, capturing the south zone title, beating the Indians 28-14, now facing Mt. Pleasant again, but this time for a state playoff berth.

The Bulldogs took the district 8-AAAA title with a win over Mt. Pleasant 31-13. Otis Amy scored three touchdowns and made a key interception in the game. Bulldog defense played a great game. Vernon Hicks led the Dogs with 14 tackles. Wylie Gates, Virgil Hardy, Lonnie Simonson, Steve Allison, Kenneth Tatum, Jon Almeida, Roy Bell, Duane Gee, and Mark Peloquin also had an outstanding defensive game.

Carthage came a long way; all the way to the state playoffs for a third straight year. How sweet it is.

In Mesquite, the field seemed to list as Denison's mammoth offense came to play. Denison won the class AAAA bi-district contest, 10-0, with only 79 yards offense and five first downs. Carthage bowed out of the state playoffs despite their 141-yard total offense. Up and down the statistical chart in fact, Carthage led in every category. It was an excellent campaign. The Bulldogs went further than any one expected.

CAPTAINS — (Kneeling) Kemmy Henderson, Paul Brewster, (standing) Jon Almeida, Coach Reynolds, and Otis Amy.

GO DOGS — Anxious Bulldog fan await the arrival of the Zone Champs.

Bulldogs sweep top honors

Despite the outcome of the state playoffs, the Bulldogs were still-First In Line to CHS students and fans.

Kemmy Henderson was chosen All-district Offensive Player of the Year. Vernon Hicks was chosen All-district Defensive Player of the Year and Coach Reynolds was chosen Coach of the Year.

Carthage placed three players on First Team Offense, including wide receiver Roger Williams, center Mike Jones, and running back Otis Amy.

Three more were chosen to First Team Defense — guard Wiley Gates, tackle Jon Almeida, and safety Steven Allison.

Kenneth Tatum and Roy Bell were chosen to Second Team Defense, while Paul Brewster, Jay Blissett, Virgil Hardy, Mark Peloquin, and Duane Gee were chosen Honorable Mention.

Another season had come and gone, but there are plenty of good memories left behind. A year of hard work had definitely paid off.

TOUCHDOWN — Kemmy Henderson scores another touchdown behind the blocking of Vincent Walton and Jason Ballenger.

D-E-F-E-N-S-E — Bulldogs' awesome defense stops Denison once again after a short gain.

Teamwork pays off for J.V.

Teamwork is what it is all about. This year the junior varsity worked together as a team and became district champs. Finishing the season with a 10-0-0 record, the JV proved that the "suicide squad" was varsity material. They called themselves that because they got to play against both Mt. Pleasant and Denison varsities. They hoped that this suicide play helped prepare them for the playoffs next year.

"They were a group of outstanding kids," said Coach Wade Youngblood. "They worked hard all year and improved every week."

The outstanding players were sophomore Jeff Jones who scored eight touchdowns and rushed for 591 yards; junior Todd Bogenschutz who punted 22 times for 766 yards; sophomore quarterback Jerry Castleberry who passed for 244 yards and 2 touchdowns, rushed for 499 yards, and scored 6 touchdowns; and sophomore Jack Parker who made 55 tackles.

Coach Stan Davis said, "They were a fine group of people to work with. I know they'll do well next year."

Future dogs have disappointing season; need experience to win

While the JV won the district crown, the freshman team had a disappointing season ending with 1-5-2. Despite the fact that the breaks just didn't come their way, the team pulled together to do their best against Center. Their teamwork enabled them to win the game with a score of 8-0, with Chris Hardy making the touchdown.

"They had a disappointing season, but the team worked hard, and if they keep on working hard, we will have a good JV football team next year," said Coach Tony Luton.

"They improved and gained confidence every ball game," said Coach Doug Reed. "Coach Luton and I are proud of them, especially on defense. Another year of experience, and they can be a good overall JV football team."

Stamina

Players unite to keep the ball rolling

Because the Lady Bulldogs were confronted with a tough season, the players continually worked harder toward a goal for which they could all be proud. Although the team's district record of 5-5 wasn't perfect, the Lady Bulldogs had an equal amount of rewarding feelings toward their season. Each of the team members faithfully resisted the opposition, and the team's endurance resulted in a feeling of accomplishment.

The Lady Bulldogs were instructed under the coaching efforts of Doug Reed. He was pleased with the season's outcome and commented, "Super Students — I've never had a group that worked harder! ARGO!"

The team consisted of ten players, and each person had a particular talent. Kim Weatherford led the team with 355 points and 70 assists. Teresa Jackson was outstanding with a total of 184 steals. Another valuable player was Sonja Soape, having 207 rebounds.

Toward the season's end, several players gained recognition for their efforts. Making the All-District first team were Sonja Soape and Kim Weatherford. Jamie Shaw and Teresa Jackson were named to the All-District second team. Also, Susan Scott was named for Honorable Mention. Sonja was additionally chosen for All-East Texas third team, and Kim was named for Honorable Mention.

IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUC-CEED — Coach Reed explains his next game plan to Susan Scott, Susie Davis, and Jamie Shaw.

Ninth grade girls finish 15-5

Girls' basketball has been active this year with the JV team finishing with a 12-10 record and the ninth graders ending their season with an impressive 15-5 record. Coaches for the teams were Miss Sue Donohoe, JV, and Miss Amy Clabaugh, freshmen.

Each coach thought her team did an outstanding job, but as Miss Donohoe said, "All we lacked was experience." Both agreed that the last few games were better as each team gained experience. Miss Clabaugh said that they needed to gain more confidence in their playing ability. She added that one of their assets was speed down the court.

Miss Donohoe said that JV basketball should give the girls experience to play varsity. She also said that her team was wellrounded, that no one person was outstanding all the time. If one person was having a bad game, the others would step in and help out. "We worked really well together."

Both coaches are expecting great things next year. Miss Clabaugh said, "I'm proud to have coached these ninth grade girls."

FIGHTING IT OUT — Wanda Jones attempts to take the ball from the Gladewater team. SET AND READY — Dena Chenault won't let the other team advance.

Dogs have improved season

Under the new direction of Coach Gary Surratt, the boys' varsity basketball team forged a 9-18 record. Although it was a "rebuilding" year, the team showed marked improvement over last year's squad.

"From where we started, we made progress. We were competitive in most ball games which is the first step in turning a program around," Coach Surratt said.

The team played several outstanding games. Not only did they defeat a top-ranked Linden-Kildare team but they also won second place in the Henderson tournament.

The team's average of 64.4 points a game was a result of the play of several team members. Michael Castleberry led the scoring by averaging 24 points per game. Vernon Hicks was the top rebounder with 7 caroms per game. Otis Amy dealt out 4 assists per game.

Not only was the team rewarded with an improved record but two players also received recognition for their ability. Michael Castleberry was selected first team All-District while Otis Amy was named to the second team. In addition, Castleberry received the distinction of being named third team All-Region. He was the only junior to be given this honor.

J.V., freshmen have successful season

The Junior Varsity team, coached by Stan Davis, compiled a record of 10 wins and 17 losses. Despite the disappointing season, Coach Stan Davis had words of praise for the team, saying "They worked hard. Basketball was special to them. They never let up." According to coach Davis, the team must improve on basketball skills, shooting, and defense in order to become more competitive. Leading the team in scoring was Jeff Jones with 221 points. Allan Apple was the leading rebounder with 155, and Jerry Castleberry was the leader in assists with 38.

The freshman team again was the most competitive in boys' basketball, winning district with a 5-2 record. They finished the season with 11 wins and 10 losses. The team was led by the play of outstanding post men Bobby Allison and Donald Bryant. Coach Bill Pickens stated, "We had good effort this year. Kids improved week by week, that's what you look for on the ninth grade level."

Girls' Track Striving to Win

This year the girls' track team had an outstanding year. Coach Doug Reed played an important role in getting the varsity girls ready for competition. The team turned in some outstanding results, most of which were during the district meet.

In this meet Michelle Sneed placed third in the 3200 meter run, Kit Kyle placed second in the 1600 m. run, Tammy Brannon placed first in the 800 m. run, Sonja Soape placed fourth in the high jump. These were only a few of the many excellent placings turned in by the varsity girls' track team, and they proved that they were definitely an outstanding group.

WHAT A KICK! — Cammy Philips gives all she has to finish the race ahead of her competitors.

EASY RIDER — Michelle Sneed slides around a curve during her 3200-meter run.

Relays win district

Carthage track athletes made Coach Chuck Harrison's last coaching effort more memorable by sweeping both relay trophies and exceeding his expectations in the 8-AAAA district track meet. Although they finished a distant third in total points to Palestine and Jacksonville, they couldn't have made Coach Harrison any happier.

Fifteen individuals placed at the meet held in Carthage, including Mike Castleberry, fourth in the long jump and sixth in the 100-meter dash; Sammy Buffin, fifth in the long jump; Steven Allison, sixth in the long jump and second in the high jump; Virgil Wedgeworth, fourth in the pole vault; Rodney Russell, third in high jump, sixth in intermediate hurdles, and fifth in high hurdles; Scott Brown, sixth in shot put; Gary Cassity, fourth in the 1600-meter run and sixth in the 3200-meter run; Phillip Richter, sixth in the 800-meter dash; Henry Hollie, first in intermediate hurdles and third in the high hurdles; Donald Bryant, fourth in the high hurdles; David Willie, first in the 100-meter dash and fifth in the 200-meter dash; Troy Richter, third in the 400-meter dash; and Billy Brent, fourth in the 200-meter dash. The sprint relay team, consisting of Anthony Jones, Billy Brent, Otis Amy, and David Willie, breezed to a first-placed finish. Troy Richter, Henry Hollie, Billy Brent, and David Willie, members of the mile relay team, also finished first.

Eight qualify for regionals

Bulldogs ran into tough competition at the regional meet held in Pasadena. They had to face such powerhouses as Jasper, Port Arthur Lincoln, and Bay City. Despite the tough competition, Henry Hollie finished second in the intermediate hurdles to qualify for the state meet in Austin. Hollie finished seventh at the state meet, even with another runner's hurdle falling into his lane causing him to fall. Other finishers at the regional meet were Steven Allison, third in the high jump; David Willie, fifth in the 100 meter dash; Anthony Jones, seventh in the 100 meter dash; and Rodney Russell ninth in the high hurdles. The sprint relay finished seventh while the mile relay finished ninth.

The freshman team finished fourth at the district meet with a total of 105 points. Placing at the district meet were: Frank Chadwick, fourth in the discus, second in the shotput, and fifth in the 3200 meter run; Rusty Robinett, first in the pole vault, sixth in the 100 meter dash, and second in the 200 meter dash; Jerremy Stuart, third in the pole vault; Randall Armstrong, fourth in the pole vault, fourth in the high hurdles, and fifth in the intermediate hurdles; Donald Bryant, fifth in the long jump, first in shot put, first in the high hurdles, and second in the intermediate hurdles; Darrick Hooper, third in the 800 meter dash and fifth in the 1600 meter run; Matt Reed, fifth in the 800 meter run and fifth in the 400 meter dash; and Kenneth Williams, sixth in the intermediate hurdles.

Golf, tennis teams have mixed results

"We fared well overall at district," said Coach Gwen Winters of the Varsity and Junior Varsity tennis teams. Lisa Ritmanich and Nina Walker placed third in Varsity girls' doubles. In Varsity boys' singles, James Gage placed third. In Junior Varsity girls' doubles, Laurie Buechler and Stephanie Mitchell won first place. John Lindsly and Matt Evatt placed first in J.V. boys' doubles.

Coach Wade Youngblood coached the golf team. The girls' team won second at district in Jacksonville, enabling them to advance in regionals in Huntsville, where they tied for fourth place. The boys' team had a disappointing time at district as they were unable to place.

Outstanding athletes chosen Sportsmen awarded at banquets

Every year the outstanding Bulldog athletes are honored at the Football Banquet and the All-Sports Banquet by their teammates and coaches and by the community sports fans. Most award recipients are voted upon by their fellow athletes, but some are selected by coaches. Either way, to be recognized at one of the annual banquets is a true thrill.

At the Football Banquet, held on January 7, 1985, the Most Valuable Players in all areas of football were recognized.

At the All-Sports Banquet, held on May 6, 1985, tennis players, basketball players, track team members, and golf team members were honored. Baseball team members were recognized but not awarded because their season was not over.

A sport in itself

Cheerleaders are special people chosen by the student body to perform for their team. They have to be people the students feel will be dedicated to the team. They need to be dedicated enough to be willing to work, and work hard during the summer on their own time.

For example, during the summer the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders went to cheerleading camp at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. Both squads won three ribbons each. The Varsity and Junior Varsity were awarded the spirit stick. This award was very special because it has only been won twice before.

Cheerleaders must search for many ideas to try to keep the school spirit roaring loud for each game. They also let the players know they are behind them all the way and to try to give them encouragement when the game isn't going in their favor.

The Carthage High School cheerleaders were great performers and the backbone for the Bulldogs.

Band Through wind, rain sleet, and snow

As many spectators realized, the band's performances became progressivly more outstanding as football season continued. However, the Bulldog Band contributed endless hours of hard work to reach the peak of perfection. Some argued that even a natural disaster couldn't keep the band off the field. Although unfavorable conditions rarely halted practice, the musicians were forced to view several games from a shelter.

In early August, a tradition was started as the entire band loaded on the Golden Buzzards and traveled to Broken Bow, Oklahoma. This band camp was a tactical method of getting a head start on the long job of enacting a marching band. The band returned to quagmire behind the school and worked additionally to prepare for football games and ultimately UIL Marching Contest.

Perhaps the unfamiliar setting, lack of concentration, or a failure to do the best possible resulted in the band's making a II at contest. The rating dampened spirits for a time, but soon the band pulled together and concentrated on being the best ever in the concert competition the following spring.

Band Maintaining a Superior Record

As concert season approached, the once united CHS Bulldog Band separated to form two outstanding groups. Once again, members marked Monday night band rehearsals on their calendars. At first, the bands experimented with various musical pieces, searching for just the right program to perform at UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest. Finally, each band chose three songs and began working diligently toward perfection.

On April 3 in the CHS auditorium, the Symphonic Band sat down to perform their eighth consecutive first division rating in both concert and sightreading. Although they made a II in sightreading, the Concert Band was even more joyful because they made an unprecedented first division concert rating.

After much time spent planning and rehearsing, the CHS band was fruitfully rewarded for their endeavors. As intended, both bands had made superior ratings in the spring contest. Moreover, the band as a whole had regained its confidence and realized that it was still the "best in all the land."

Band Comin' 'round the mountain

The CHS band members excitedly boarded their chartered buses on the night of May 10. Seventeen hours later, the same group wearily stepped off their temporary homes and onto the vast area known as the Smokey Mountains.

The Holiday Inn gave the Bulldog Band a warm welcome, and the band gratefully repaid their hosts with a practice session in the parking lot. Their final preparation was worth the effort when they attended the Dogwood Arts Festival in Knoxville. Here the band received a second place in both the concert and street-drill competition. They also were awarded third place in the parade competition. The musicians spent their well-deserved free time shopping, dining, and enjoying the various forms of entertainment. Many chose to view the oddities in the Ripley's Believe-It-Or-Not Museum, be terrified in Hauntings, or tour the foam house. However, some traveled high into the mountains by Swiss tram. Ober Gatlinburg was the major source of recreation because of its ice skating rink and bob sleds.

Although a portion of the bus convoy encountered problems, the band eventually made its way home. Greeted with hugs and kisses from parents, the proud students returned home and added three additional trophies to the already enormous collection.

Choir Busy as a bee

The high school choir has been hard at work, performing a fall concert for the parents to start it all off. The Select Singers kept busy performing many concerts at Joe's Family Restaurant for special civic organizations. Some of the performances were held at people's homes, while a few were done at school.

Ross Perot's new House Bill did not affect the Select Singers. If a program needed to be presented, it was scheduled around lunch hour. Although Select Singers didn't compete in U.I.L. contest by themselves, they were a part of the Concert Choir.

RUNNERS UP — These seven members received second place awards at solo contest.

Concert Choir — Entertainment for all

The Carthage High School Concert Choir has been busy. They have done everything from singing at the bank to presenting a spring concert.

The Select Singers sang many a special at Joe's Family Restaurant. They went to UIL Concert and Sight Reading contest and accomplished an overall I rating.

"It was the highlight of my choir year," says one choir member. "Select Singers taught me a lot about singing. It helped me and encouraged me to sing more," said Jeff Jones, a senior choir member.

AT LAST — All the hard and long hours of practice can pay off by performing and receiving a I.

KIWANIS — Choir performed many specials at Joe's Family Restaurant.

MERRY CHRISTMAS — From CHS choir when they performed at the First National Bank.

DO RE ME — Practicing is an essential part of being in choir.

GOOD WORK — A. L. Roquemore, Tammy Carter, and Odell Sessions were recognized at the Co-op banquet for their outstanding work at Brookshires.

FEARLEAD LEADER — Mr. David pass is the sponsor of the DE club.

AND THE WINNER IS ... — Madonna McClure receives the Outstanding DECA Student award from Mr. Oates.

Distributive Education Clubs of America

The DE Club started the year off with a dinner meeting at Joe's Cafe, where the 1984-85 officers were installed. On February 8-9, eight students competed at the regional contest in Tyler. Of these, three qualified to advance to the state meet which was held in Fort Worth March 7-9. These three were Sharon Kirchner, General Marketing; Madonna McClure, General Merchandising; and Darla Burnett, Advertising. The club's other delegates to State were Lisa McNaughton and Marylin Wooten.

IN THE MONEY — Linda Williams and Darla Burnett keep everything under control as managers of the Bulldog Store.

KEEPING IT IN ORDER — Chris Smith makes sure the records are straight at Panola General Hospital.

L. Roquemore.

FAVORITES — Madonna McClure and Chris Smith served as DECA sweetheart and beau.

EFFICIENT — Sharon Kirchner types a claim at Patterson Insurance Agency.

TAKING STOCK OF IT ALL — David Wilkins and Kelley Hunt stock the shelves at Cain Hardware and Lumber.

Distributive Education Clubs of America

The DECA members participated in several service projects throughout the year, such as assisting the Lions Club with the United Fund hamburger sale in the fall.

However, the cliche "all work and no play" was not a very accurate description of the club. Business and pleasure were combined at two club meetings at the East Texas Minors' Association. And DECA sponsor Mr. David Pass hosted several ski parties and cookouts for the club at his lake house.

WILL THAT BE ALL? — Marylin Wooten rings up a sale at Ken Turner Pharmacy.

TIME OUT — Linda Williams chats with friends after the Co-op banquet. Linda has been employed at Sears, Roebuck & Co.

SEE SPOT RUN — Kandi Wallace reads to the children at Kandiland Day Care Center.

ITS Scores Big

The International Thespian Society is an honorary organization open to all actors and actresses. To obtain membership in the club one must follow certain guidelines: He must be in at least one full-length play, attend some contests and student direct a play. Currently there are 14 students who are Thespians.

The goal, for many, is to get many points, although this isn't the goal set by the ITS. For doing certain jobs in the theater department one may earn points as a reward. When one receives ten points he is eligible to become a Thespian. At 20 points he can get his first star, 30, his second star, and so on until he reaches 60. Those Thespians returning are Tanja Givens, Cindy Gober, Lisa Morgan, Jeff Jones, Mike Meaux, Michele Hays, and Shaune Boothe. At the banquet the new initiates were introduced.

Drama — Plays, plays, plays

The Limelight Players performed three plays at CHS. The first play of the year was THE DIVINERS. Director Lucky Watkins took an active part in this one, playing the role of Basil. The second play was the annual Christmas play. It was a basic melodrama about a family who couldn't pay the rent. The third production was the UIL One-Act play, entitled "The Secret Affairs of Milred Wilde." Tanja Givens and Jeff Jones played the lead roles. Carthage hosted the UIL district meet, held March 29. Lee Sellers, freshman, won a gold medal and was named to the All-Star Cast. Jeff Jones and Shaune Boothe each won Honorable Mentions.

Not only did the drama students put on plays but they also participated in UIL individual events.

Shaune Boothe placed first in Lincoln-Douglas style debate and in Persuasive Speaking. Jeff Jones won first in Informative Speaking and third in prose. Steve Scott placed second in Informative Speaking. These three went to the Regional meet held in Huntsville.

There were many practice meets for students to attend from Tyler to Nacogdoches. Students entered events from prose and poetry to group improvisation and creative movement.

HERO I — HECE Cooking up new ideas

As a money-making project, HERO I — HECE classes wrote and published a cookbook. The students compiled recipes which were donated by other students and faculty. They worked hard on this project all year. In the summer, the cookbooks went on sale for six dollars each.

HARDLY WORKING — Sandra Pipkin spends her days in class reviewing cookbooks.

WHICH ONE GOES WHERE? — Debbie Gradberg and Cindy Pugh are busy categorizing recipes.

CONTEMPLATING — Belinda Taylor looks at ideas for the HERO I cookbook in other cookbooks.

LEADERSHIP — As sponsor of HERO I — HECE, Mrs. Penny Boone supervises the making of the club cookbook.

BUSY AS A BEE — Shana Chambers types some of the recipes for the cookbook.

HERO I — HECE Improving minds

The HERO I — HECE classes this year studied many things about self-improvement and management. While they were studying personal improvement, demonstrations were given on makeup application, nail care, and color analysis. Along with studying physical improvement, they also studied personality improvement. Aiding in the FHA playschool was another project that HERO I participated in. In the field of business, they studied the procedure for job interviews and how to budget money. Nutrition and food preparation was also studied in the HECE classroom. Mrs. Boone served as the sponsor for Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO I).

NTENT LISTNER — Amanda Moris waits patiently for the next step n her manicure.

TAKING IT EASY — Rachael Goree relaxes as she gets a manicure.

HERO II Learning through experience

The purpose of the HERO II club was to enhance skills and training learned and encountered in the CVAE Home Economics classes. Most of the club activities were exercised and carried out through laboratory experiences. The CVAE classes also held bi-monthly luncheons for the faculty and administration. Another money making project the HERO II club held was the annual bake sale. Proceeds from the sale were used for their trip to Six Flags in April. The proceeds also were used for the FHA meeting that they attended. Mrs. Norvell Walker was the sponsor of the Home Economics Related Occupations club.

FHA HARD WORKERS

Leadership and citizenship . . . these are two of the many things stressed in Future Homemakers of America. FHA students this year had many interesting projects such as selling pecans and comb and brush sets, visiting local nursing homes, and sending cards to the nursing home patients on holidays, as well as the pre-school held every year. Although FHA did not travel to Houston this year to the meeting there for lack of funds, they did attend the area meeting in Tyler. "I really found the experience rewarding. I learned a lot about children, also," said one FHA member.

ALL SMILES — Joe Leary and Kelvin Willie seem to be enjoying their work.

BUSY, BUSY, BUSY — Future Homemakers of America was a very busy club this year.

YAKKITY-YAK - Joe Leary enjoys a little conversation.

LOVESICK — Melissa Garrett has a couple of very dashing escorts.

FHA MEMBERS LOVE KIDS

There were many surprises in store for the FHA students when they started the pre-school this year. Every day from 8:00 to 3:00 for one school week, FHA students hosted a pre-school for four and five year old children. The program cost ten dollars and was open to any children interested.

"The students really seemed to love teaching the pre-school," said Mrs. Nellie Allums, homemaking teacher and FHA sponsor.

The pre-school, which took about two weeks to prepare, provided the children with games to play, stories to hear, and various other activities. Tunnels made of boxes, a dress-up station, and a "fish pond" were also featured.

The only big problem encountered was one day when more children than were registered showed up and things got a little out of control.

"I really found teaching the children enjoyable. It was an interesting and educational project," said junior Toni Rider.

HARD-WORKERS — The 1984-85 Future Homemakers of America had many money-making projects this year.

DOUBLE VISION — Roger Williams and Jeff Etheredge put some double-talk on a patient at Leisure Lodge.

FFA Ag students compete

Future Farmers of America is made up of students enrolled in agricultural classes. They participated in various shows and contests showing their knowledge and abilities involving agriculture. This year a majority of students participating in these events brought home plaques and trophies to show for their hard work and dedication.

Working with the Key Club, FFA helped build the bonfire, and they also held the annual FFA rodeo.

TIME FOR A BREAK — The students stop to rest in the middle of their tour of San Antonio.

DINING IN STYLE — Audrey Tate, Karen Turner, Mrs. Jennings, and Tracy Rougley enjoy their lunch while traveling down the Rio Grande.

The highlight of the Future Teachers of America year was the trip to San Antonio for the State FTA Convention. On the afternoon of February 28, Jon Almeida, Audrey Tate, Karen Turner, Dana Brady, Wendy Lindsley, and Tracy Rougley left for their two day convention along with their sponsors Bonnie Pope and Norma Jennings.

The convention revolved mainly around teaching careers and was called to elect state officers, discuss fund raising projects, and learn ways to make the local units better. In order to achieve this, general sessions were attended by all members present.

While in San Antonio, the students enjoyed seeing such sights as the Alamo, the San Antonio Zoo, and the river walk. They also enjoyed meeting people from other schools and being able to socialize at the dance given by the Convention Coordinators.

Mrs. Jennings felt it especially beneficial because they were able to see what other people are doing in the same organization, but in different schools.

The members of the FTA club also participated in the annual mum sale. The club used the proceeds to fund the recipient of this year's FTA scholarship, Jon Almeida.

NOT BAD — Phillip Richter looks at how well he sanded his project.

Industrial Arts Serves the community

The Industrial Arts Club encourages students to take an interest in their school and community. The club plays an important role in training the youth of the community to except the responsibility as leaders of the future.

Most members enter the Industrial Arts Club for different reasons. "I entered the club to learn more about the woodworking, metal, and drafting techniques." said Mike Winterrowd.

and drafting techniques," said Mike Winterrowd.

The Industrial Arts Club was actively involved in the betterment of the school and community. The club was called upon to perform various duties for the school, like painting seat numbers on the visitors side of the football stadium, and the lighting of the CHS burning letters at homecoming. Also, members of the club supported the athletic department by running the chains at eight, ninth, and junior varsity football games. The club participated in several community service projects. They restored abanded cemeteries throughout Panola County. They also built twenty wooden cars for the "Toys for Tots" Christmas charity drive.

IAC Sweeps Region and State

The Industrial Arts Club was near perfect at Region and State competition. They were Region and State champions. They won more ribbons than any other Industrial Arts Club CHS has ever known. At Region they won 33 first place ribbons, 19 second place ribbons, 13 third place ribbons, and 24 best in district. At State, they won 22 first place ribbons, 20 second place, six third place, and two best in division. Other awards received by the Industrial Arts Club were: Mr. George Smith receiving the Outstanding Advisor award and Clay Centers receiving the Outstanding Student Award. All in all, the hard work of the students and advisors really paid off in the long run.

NOT ALL WORK AND NO PLAY — The Industrial Arts Club celebrates winning their awards with a chili supper.

Key Club Hours of service

The Key Club International theme this year was "Manhours for Mankind." The purpose of this theme was to encourage Key Clubbers all over the world to donate at least 50 manhours each to the service of mankind.

The Carthage Key Club fulfilled its part in donating manhours. The club kicked off its year by manning the telephones during the Jerry Lewis Telethon for muscular dystrophy on Labor Day. The club was also involved in other service projects throughout the year such as cleaning up the rodeo grounds, holding all school dances, decorating the stadium before a playoff game, selling Cokes at Potlatch, and washing the teachers' windshields during Key Club Week.

Obviously, the Carthage Key Club had a busy and successful year.

NOT LATE AGAIN — Paul Brewster and Kelly Parker get dressed in a hurry in order to make another Key Club caucus at International Key Club convention in Ft. Worth.

Key Club Club rewarded

On the weekend of March 26-28, the CHS Key Club attended the District Convention in Ft. Worth. As a result of its hard work throughout the year, the club was rewarded at convention. The club had the honor of being ranked #12 out of over 250 clubs in the Texas-Oklahoma district. Kay Lynn Vincent received the Tom Duncan Memorial Award given to outstanding club secretaries. In addition, Angie Skelton was selected as one of the twelve sweetheart finalists and competed for the title of district sweetheart at convention. The club members returned from convention with memories of good times and new friends and a better understanding of what Key Club is all above — service.

PROUD PRESIDENT — Kelly Parker displays the certificate the CHS Key Club received for being ranked #12 in the T-O district.

TREASURER — John Paul Davis served as the 1984-85 Texas-Oklahoma District Treasurer.

TV Crew Busy

Potlatch, the Ag show, and the band contests were among the major records that were done by CHS TV. Directed by Mrs. Webb the classes adventured in many directions. Three first-year class and one second-year class, the group entered its fourth year at CHS.

Many different remote records were done on and off the campus. The TV crew ventured to the Libby campus many times to record Kindergarten classes and first graders and their special programs.

On top of all the remote records CHS-TV also kept up with their television show "CHS Presents . . ."

CHS-TV was visited by Miss Texas in September and that was a special treat for many of the students. "I thoroughly enjoyed meeting her and talking with her. It's not everyday you get to Miss Texas," said one first year student.

With all the legislative actions CHS-TV kept up with the tradition of fine quality programming.

RESTIN' — Kemmy Henderson shows how great he is at holding up the wall.

MA'AM DIRECTOR — Mrs. Webb is at the head of things in CHS-TV.

Top row — Shanon Hooker, Annette Briggs, Audry Walton, Jammie Hines, Vernon Hicks, Tyron iams, Chris Hulsey.

OEA — preparing students for work

OEA, Office Education Association, was sponsored by Mrs. Jeanette Tinkle. OEA was made up of junior and senior students interested in office related occupations. Each of these students was a member of one of the Vocational Office Education classes. The preemployment lab, geared as a form of preparation for the co-op program, was made up of juniors. Seniors active in the co-op program were employed at various offices in Carthage.

PRE-EMPLOYMENT LAB — Melinda Hartley, Karen McDaniel, Rachael Rhiddlehoover, Sherry Cox, and Mary Moore

CO-OP PROGRAM — Dawn McFadden, Patricia Davis, Starla Dobson, Jackie Hartwell, Kim Collins, Branda Sepaugh, Kim Curry, Kim Boyd, Verlene Brown, Aretha Williams, and Kim Johnston.

NO TIME WASTED — Laurie Wilson makes the most of her time in class — she finishes that note she started first period.

COME ON! — Kim Boyd finds it hard to believe that Mrs. Tinkle expects her to turn in her assignment.

HA! HA! — Mrs. Tinkle finds some of the remarks made about the latest assignment somewhat amusing.

DECEPTION — Rachael Rhiddlehoover appears to be hard at work when actually she is catching up on her sleep.

OEA OFFICERS — Vice-President, Kim Collins; Secretary, Brenda Sepaugh; Reporter, Starla Dobson; Treasurer, Rachael Rhiddlehoover; and not pictured President, Melinda Posey.

Rodeo — Still Growing

This year rodeo advanced even further than before. This was due to the many events offered in high school rodeos. With such events as goat tying, barrel racing, bull riding, and calf roping, there was an event that fit anyone who wanted to be involved in rodeo. Also, since several rodeo associations were open to high school age students, there were rodeos within traveling distance for everyone.

OFFICERS — Sonja Soape, president; Jack Smith, vice-president; Brian Price, secretary-treasurer; Tracy Peace, reporter. ROUND AND ROUND — Tracy Colston spurs her horse on as she races around the barrels at a Region V rodeo.

HEATIN' IT UP — Stacy Sanders rosins his bull rope behind the chutes in preparation to ride his bull.

LOOK AT THAT FORM — Mike Weatherford shows the style that helps him place high in many high school rodeos.

DALLY OFF — Brad Gillis turns his steer as Brian Pride moves in to rope the heels for a fast time and maybe first place.

Rodeo Club Striving to Win

1985 was the first year in several years that the Carthage High School rodeo club sponsored a rodeo, and due to the help of club sponsors, the club was able to hold more than one rodeo. Among these rodeos was very successful East Texas Rodeo with entrants from high schools all over the area held on March 8 and 9. Winners included Jack Smith and Tracy Peace, who tied for first in bullriding; Mike Weatherford, who won third in bullriding; Virgil Wedgeworth, who placed fourth in bullriding; Jack Smith, first in bareback riding; and Sonja Soape, who placed in ribbon roping.

AIRBORNE — Virgil Wedgeworth gets up into the clouds on this bull while practicing to improve his riding ability.

SLOW DOWN — Sonja Soape appears to be frustrated with her calf, but she doesn't give up.

HANGING TOUGH — Jack Smith bears down as he tries to defend his 1983-84 bullriding champion title.

LOOK MOM! ONE HAND! — Stacy Sanders concentrates on the bull's head in order to stay on for 8 seconds.

GRIT THOSE TEETH — Tracy Peace makes an awful expression while straining his body to try and ride Ivey's 2-J at a high school rodeo.

Spanish Club Accent on culture

Spanish Club . . . an accent on culture! Clubs centering around foreign languages offer students clues to other ways of life. The CHS Spanish Club is no different.

During club meetings, members discussed trips to other nations, the variety of cultures, and activities for the club.

Activities included bringing canned goods for charity, plans for a bake sale to raise money, and plans for a meeting at a Mexican

Club members also had the opportunity to select a foreign pen pal.

Meetings were officiated by Claire Hughes, president. Other officers were Tanja Givens, vice-president; Tiffani McDaniel, secretary; Felicity Fair, treasurer; and Whitney Reese, reporter.

Club sponsor was Dolores Blackwell.

Student Council Student Council gets job done

The purpose of a student council is to promote citizenship, scholarship, leadership, and human relations among the students. In addition, it is supposed to provide a link between the administration and the students.

The Carthage High School Student Council, which consisted of homeroom representatives, class presidents, club presidents, head cheerleaders, and the council officers, fulfilled its responsibility to the school and the students. Under the leadership of sponsor Steve Garrett, the council held several activities and contests to promote school spirit and to encourage student participation.

The council's promotion of school spirit included being in charge of the Homecoming activities. They decorated the commons area, sponsored a dress-up day and a red-and-white day, and sponsored a door decorating contest.

OFFICERS — Paul Brewster, president; Mike Jones, vice-president; Sonja Soape, secretary; Kerry Allison, treasurer.

SHOW OF SPIRIT — The Student Council helped provide the decorations for Homecoming.

SENIOR SPIRIT — The council spent many hours decorating the commons area.

Student Council Pocket change

The Carthage High School Student Council financed the school activities it sponsored through fundraising projects. The council held a window wash with members washing windshields at major shopping areas around town. They raised over #100. In addition, the council sponsored the penny-jar contest. Each class was given a large jar in the main office and was told to fill it with pennies. For each penny in the jar, the class was given a point. However, points were deducted for each silver coin in the jar. That rule was an incentive for upperclassmen to put silver in the underclassmen's jars. At the end of the week, the points were tallied and the junior class came out on top. The student council also came out on top because they kept the money raised in the contest. The proceeds from the council's two fundraisers were used to pay for decorating the commons area for Homecoming.

HAIL, HAIL, THE GANG'S ALL HERE — The new members recite the NHS pledge.

WHAT'S COOKING? — Chris Medlin and Lori Langlotz can't decide which cheesecake recipe to use for the National Honor Society Bake Sale.

MY TUTOR — In her Extra time, Kay Lynn Vincent donates her academic talent to the NHS's tutoring service.

National Honor Society Going the extra mile

National Honor Society gained a remarkable number of new members. Because the requirement of a 90 average was strictly enforced, the students in NHS were academically outstanding. However, before being allowed to become a member, each student was also evaluated by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service and character.

However, the members didn't just keep their heads in books. They offered a tutoring service, donated funds for a scholarship, and held a bake sale in conjunction with the PTA Plant Sale. At the end of the year, the club members and Mrs. Betty Bounds, sponsor, treated themselves to a night out.

Carthaginian Staff Informing the students

"With only four people it takes a lot of patience and togetherness to make it," said Stephanie Johnson reflecting on production of the monthly C.H.S. newspaper, the "Carthaginian."

Working on the "Carthaginian" was a full time job for the fourman staff. The tiny team found itself burdened with a big load consisting of selling ads, writing stories, taking pictures, doing interviews, planning the paper, doing layouts, setting type, and setting headlines.

Tiffani McDaniel and Diann McGuire served as co-editors of the "Carthaginian." Diann noted, "An editor does just about everything." This included taking "a final look at the paper before sending it off to be printed," she added. Tiffani felt that working on the staff was rewarding in that it strengthened friendships. She said, "I didn't know Diann that well, but when you work together all the time, it makes everybody closer."

Mark Roberson served as features editor and Stephanie Johnson served as business manager of the "Carthaginian." Mrs. Elaine Timmons was the paper's sponsor.

Mark summed up the experience this way, "It's been a rough year, but I've enjoyed it."

Camera Club New club begins

A new club, the Camera Club, became part of C.H.S. in 1984 because of student request. Photography students wanted to belong to a club which promotes appreciation and understanding of photography, so they decided to organize the Camera Club.

Eighteen charter members began the club.

The club sponsored a monthly print contest where the members took pictures of different subjects and submitted them for judging. For example, during January they took pictures of children, winter, shadows, and reflections. They could choose between black/white and color.

Mrs. Elaine Timmons sponsored the club.

SURPRISE — Dina Jensen can't believe she got caught doing homework instead of printing.

FLABBERGASTED — Jennifer McNatt can't find the words to say after being taken by surprise.

PRIVACY — Jeri Long has to go in the darkroom to read her newspaper in peace.

Computer Club Provides opportunities

This was the second year for the Computer Club and it was made up of thirty students.

The purpose of the club was to encourage the ethical use of computer technology and to provide opportunities for additional time on computers. The club also furthered the studies of computer related topics.

The club started a constitution last year, which was approved by the Student Council. The steering committee also helped to write the constitution.

COMPUTER STEERING COMMITTEE — Betty Kyle, Angeles Kennedy, Paul Kennedy, and Johnny Graves.

IMPROVING THE FUTURE — Angeles Kennedy is trying to better her future by working on computers.

LEARNING MORE — Alfred Lincoln and Johnny Graves are learning more and bettering their future by using computers.

HB 72 Brings moans, groans

Most people expected changes — changes within the school system — how classes were taught, the grading system, and absenteeism. At first, some faculty members hoped to avoid House Bill 72. However, the bill has brought about change.

House Bill 72 brought into effect the provisions of discipline management programs, driver's education, assessment of basic skills and compensatory education, extracurricular activities, minimum teaching duties, absences, compulsory attendance, student testing, and tutorials.

Mrs. Elaine Timmons, journalism teacher, stated, "It hasn't changed things much. It is just putting more emphasis on academics."

The attendance clerks can not say that they agree with everything stated within the bill, but it has made a change in their unexcused absence count, for they must watch it much closer now.

This bill put some teachers in a bind because many are having to take time and plan a new curriculum, then follow it. Many complaints about "Essential Elements" could be heard coming from the Teacher's Lounge.

Finally, Mrs. Pope commented, "Some of the changes are good. It's always good to spend school hours in school. However, it's our own task as educators to turn out well-rounded, literate citizens. Students gain much extra curricular activities such as individual responsibilities to the group. This can be as important to a citizen as reading a road sign and figuring percentages."

GIVE ME STRENGTH — Mr. Bird hopes strength, enough to face his band classes.

LATE AGAIN, HUH? — Mrs. Brenda Foshee p forms one of her many duties as Attendar Clerk as she gives yet another tardy slip.

A Favorite Pastime

The game "Trivial Pursuit" has become quite a favorite pastime among many teachers and students. Students have played the game in various classrooms, and some teachers have spent their conference periods relaxing in the teachers' lounge trying to recall answers to questions such as "Where do Tangerines live?" and "Is the thumb considered a finger?" (Answers: Tangiers and yes)

Mrs. Bonnie Pope, American history teacher, says that playing the game relaxes her, but she enjoys the competition. "It is relaxing, yet it forces you to keep your brain working," said Mrs. Pope.

Mrs. Elaine Timmons, journalism teacher, said, "I play it because I'm good at it — I've always had a good retention of insignificant details. You don't have to be a genius to win; it just takes a knack of recalling obscure facts."

Mrs. Karen Reeves, biology teacher, often plays Trivial Pursuit with Mrs. Paula LaGrone, English IV teacher, and Mrs. Pope. "I play against Mrs. Pope or Mrs. LaGrone, I usually win."

The Quiz Bowl contestants used some questions from Trivial Pursuit to make ready for their contest. The practice sessions, which took place in Room A-6 after school hours, became quite rowdy at times, as the competitive spirit of the game took over the practice.

MONKEYING AROUND — students on the Washington take a minute to relax on the sta of Einstein.

A Rude Awakening

As the seniors and sponsors on the Washington, D.C. Civics trip slept peacefully in the Capitol Holiday Inn, things were happening downstairs that would surely frighten the sleeping visitors. At 3:30 a.m., the sponsors and just a few of the students were awakened by a continuously ringing bell. The sponsors finally decided that the bell was the fire alarm, and they began to wake the "sleeping beauties." As Mrs. Bonnie Pope ran through the halls knocking on doors, the students started gathering up their belongings that they wanted to save from the fire. The speed of everyone running down nine flights of stairs was really amazing. Fortunately, there was no fire. It seemed that two college students used a fire extinguisher to smother their smoke detector. This set off the alarm and brought three fire trucks to the tourists' aid. Luckily, the sponsors and students were back to dream land by 4:00 a.m.

Senior Play a Success

The Seniors of 1985 once again showed their willingness and responsibility to work long and hard to prove that they were a class that had very much class. The Senior play, "The Curious Savage," was a big success. Led by Mr. Lucky Watkins, the cast members practiced two months prior to the performance. The setting was in a madhouse in the 1950's, which was called "The Cloisters." The lead character was Mrs. Savage, played by Whitney Reese. She was committed to the funny farm by her children, and was involved in an effort to leave the asylum. The play ended when Mrs. Savage was set free. However, she then had second thoughts about leaving. The play raised much needed money for the senior class. The seniors who participated had no doubts after the final performance. A great toga party concluded the exciting experience in which the cast had been engaged.

THE LAST ONE — Whitney Reese wishes that this was her last thank-you note to write.

Writer's Cramp

"Thank you so much for the lovely gift. It was exactly what I needed!" Does this look vaguely familiar? Although the sentiment wasn't decreased, most seniors found themselves using the same words to show their gratitude.

Being at the top of the class register certainly had its ups and downs. After mailing an endless list of invitations to relatives, friends, and associates, the gifts abounded. Then, however, the thank-you cards had to be written and mailed, being careful not to omit Aunt Cordillia or Uncle Ferdo.

The responsibilities of being a senior seemed to multiply in the final weeks before graduation. Along with the recognition and gifts came a commitment to show appreciation. So, if English IV failed to enrich students' imaginations, vocabularies, and handwriting, the annual experience of sending invitations and thank-you notes undoubtedly improved the seniors' writing skills.

Party Animals

"You are invited" became a phrase to know, learn, and live for graduating seniors. These people who, for the past four years of high school, found entertainment in driving to Longview or Shreveport, cruising the Sonic, or even staying at home, suddenly broke out of their social shells.

The pages of the Memory Books were filled with invitations to Luaus, Bar-Be-Que's, swimming parties, and dainty luncheons in tea rooms. During the final weeks of school, these partying seniors used more gas racing from party to party, often two each day, than they used traveling to and from CHS.

Dressing-up was half the fun. Leis from Hawaii and monogramed towels from swimming splashes completed the concepts of traveling to regions outside Panola County. The groups often concluded their ventures on the square singing the Alma Mater or playing basketball in the drive.

The seniors had a good time exercising their social obligations. They drew close together at the end of the year in a final attempt to be united as a class. The party animals of '85' will soon be forgotten by teachers and peers, but they managed to acquire a vast stage of memories for themselves.

A Home on the Range

When the Biology II class headed to West Texas for its annual trip, the students' minds were filled with horrible visions of holding pythons and existing without electricity or running water. However, much to the surprise of sponsors Karen Reeves and Wayne Robinson, the group of juniors and seniors, girls and boys, approached this experience with not only courage, but a continuing quest to find the bright side of the ordeal.

This trip was a most unique blend of learning and entertainment. Environmental awareness was stressed throughout the excapade. In San Marcus, the emphasis was placed on the dying aquatic species located in the Edwards Aquifer. At the YO Ranch, land organicisms were the object of investigation. Seining the river, snorkeling, riding through pastures filled with endangered species, or rationing food gave the students a new-found sense of obligation to protect from extinction our world's populus.

The students, as expected, found fun in all of their new experiences. In addition to ice skating, shopping, and eating at fast food restaurants, the students canoed and tubed in New Branfels, groomed and saddled horses, and handled snakes, in an attempt to rough it

The trip was an enlightening experience, and upon returning home, this became obvious. Because conservation was the theme of the trip, the students made vows to reserve their use of paper towels. They also felt priviledged to sleep and eat in a familiar atmosphere. Although they held fond memories of the highlights of the trip, the students also felt a reborn responsibility to individually take part in preserving our environment for future generations.

Seniors Assemble for Fun

The Senior Assembly has become an anticipated tradition by both the participants and the spectators. This year, a select group of talented seniors mustered their courage and prepared to perform for the underclassmen. The presentations ranged from serious love ballads to satarical exercise shows. All the acts, however, shared a common goal; the students wanted to have fun.

The theme was CMTV, a music video show. Mark Roberson was the host and bore a striking resemblence to a typical spaced-out MTV announcer. Kiss, Sheila E., The Mary Jane

Girls, Richard Persimmon, The Rappin Dukes, and The Breakers, made special appearances throughout the assembly. The finale was a group effort that employed all the performers in "We Are The World."

The seniors practiced walking through the graduation ceremony prior to the show. After the assembly, the seniors gathered to sing the Alma Mater. The Senior Assembly gave the graduating students one final chance to pull together and work to leave a lasting impression on those left behind at CHS.

The Anxiety Strain

"... and this entire project will be due on May 17." These were the dreaded words that brought terror into the minds of seniors. Although being a senior provoked the feeling of "I don't care," actually exercising this theory was an impossibility in the midst of an overpowering load of assignments.

Attempting to prepare the graduates for college, the teachers felt a burning desire to assign long-range projects. The annual research paper was feared all year long and finally became reality in April. Biology II students who failed to take the trip were required to present a research project in preparation for missed lab hours. An indepth qualitative water study was also enacted by the Biology II class.

On a voluntary basis, seniors gave themselves for special activities. The Senior Play, "The Curious Savage," was performed in February. The Senior Assembly involved the more daring. Then, as the end of the sports' season approached, the banquets began. Both students and teachers cooperated to have a unique "Southern Nights" prom.

Even after all the time and effort seniors gave to their school, the final exams were still administered. Although some students begged for extra points for excessive dedication, they always received a feeling of personal satisfaction. The stress and anxiety was well worth the building of a responsible, adult character.

Right on target

Finally we reached the era of the "down-to-earth" fashion. No, it was not the rugged, out-doorsy look that seemed so popular, it was the parachute material that landed safely at CHS.

"I really like them because they give guys something else to wear besides jeans," one junior commented.

While some students had second thoughts about diving head first into the parachute pant fad, others simply plunged into the era with high hopes of staying in style.

Parachute pants could be in almost any color, size, or style. They could also be found on almost anybody, guys or girls. The pants appeared shiny because of the "parachute" fabric of which they were made.

If CHS students were aiming for a fashion fad with parachute pants, they definitely hit their mark.

WANTED: hearing aid

"Rock your socks off, bust your windows out, blow your woofers and tweeters, and burst your ear drums."

Actually, this was not a form of abuse, but some side effects of having a "sound system," a "hi-fi," otherwise known as a stereo.

No, not everyone possessed a stereo of such caliber that windows shattered and speakers were blown. But those who did were never known for sneaking up on anyone. Besides the vehicle's tendency to shake, rattle, and roll through town, music, or something called music, registered 120 decibels to a listening ear one mile away.

There was one good aspect to having such a system, however. Dates never had to worry about conversations; they only had to worry about what music they would like to go deaf to and if insurance would finance the hearing aid which would be needed.

In case you're wondering how to recognize someone who owns a hi-fi, he's the one who just smiles and nods his head a great deal. He doesn't answer because, well, he probably didn't hear you to begin with. His ears are still ringing from listening to his stereo on the way to school.

Maybe that's why "Deaf" Leppard was so popular.

Fender bender mender man

What might have been one man's garbage was a treasure to Keith Harper. Yes, a ratty, trashed-out car appeared worthless to the untrained eye, but Keith could see potential for a great show car in some of those "old wrecks." What one must understand is that Keith's hobby was to restore cars for car shows which awarded prizes including trophies, money, and even cars to winners.

"It takes about a week just to get a car clean enough to take it to a show," Harper explained.

However, Keith's pet project, a blue Chevy, took him a little over a year to complete. After endless hours of rebuilding the motor, painting, and generally remodeling the car, Keith was in a wreck and never got to show his finished project.

Keith's bad luck did not interfere with his interest, though. He held down two jobs — one at Bill Arnold's Garage and the other at Westbrook Paint and Body.

"I've always been around cars. I'm interested in them," Keith added.

Although Keith didn't have plans for a career with cars, he planned to continue his hobby of beautifying even the less fortunate automobiles.

Building under way

There was construction going on at CHS, but it wasn't a building. It was Heath Cariker and Andy Shutt working to become body builders in their spare time.

"I work out to become more fit and improve the health of my body," explained Heath.

Andy and Heath did not keep their work outs to themselves, either. After getting well into their weight lifting program, they decided to help others. Consequently, the two started others to lift weights properly.

"A lot of people begin lifting weights and don't know that if it is done wrong that it can do more harm than good," commented Andy.

Although Heath and Andy used the standard weight sets and exercises of the professional body builders, they steered away from the steroids which are the cause of overexaggerated muscles. Dietary and protein supplements did aid Andy and Heath in keeping healthy, though.

Cariker's and Shutt's workout plan included lifting weights 2 to 2 1/2 hours four times a week.

Heath and Andy may not go into the "construction" business full time, but the progress of their project was evident in the "bulk" of the results.

What do Kendra Miller, Alfred Lincoln, Shaune Boothe, Carlton Williams, Bill Huff, Lisa Perleman, Ronny Mason, Steve Scott, and Kellie Bradley have in common? They are all members or alternates of the first CHS Academic Decathalon team sponsored by Miss Karon Ashby.

Students were first introduced to the Decathalon by a filmstrip shown in homeroom. Afterward, students "applied" to be on the team. Surprisingly, several students showed up to find out more about the Decathalon, and those who stuck with it were not disappointed.

"I think it's one of the best activities in school because it gives students of different grade levels a chance to compete," commented junior alternate Bill Huff.

Each team consisted of six juniors and/or seniors: two "A" students, two "B" students, and two "C" students. Also, an alternate from each grade classification accompanied the team.

Competition included six tests of academic strength, three demonstrations of communication ability, and a Super Quiz — a team event before a large audience.

The Decathalon took a great deal of hard work, concentration and sweat, but the team stuck with the program until the very end.

Favorites should be chosen for their friendliness and character, and this year's sophomore favorites are no exception. Cammy Phillips and Shannon Smith are no doubt among the friendliest.

Cammy was a member of the Key Club. She also played junior varsity basketball and ran track. Her hobbies include gymnastics and playing the flute.

Shannon was active in student council and agriculture. He was also an athletic trainer. Water skiing, snow skiing and working on his ranch were among his hobbies.

YES, THIS HAPPENS A LOT— Trela Thomas explains that it is nothing new for Daniel Davis to forget his lunch money and lets him borrow a dollar ten.

FAVORITES — Cammy Phillips and Shannon Smith were chosen as sophomore class favorites.

No guts, no glory

It's the last event of the rodeo — bullriding. The one the crowd has been waiting for. They watch as a young blond-haired guy resins his rope and pulls it tight around a bull that weighs ten times as much as he.

The excitement has just begun for Virgil Wedgeworth, a CHS band student, rodeo club member, FFA member, and Key Clubber. Wedgeworth is only sixteen years old, compared to most bullriders who are in their twenties, but he rides as well or better than many of these older competitors. He has competed in many high school, amateur, and adult rodeos, where he has placed many times. He placed in rodeos at Gladewater, Firson, Louisiana, and the East Texas High School finals.

Wedgeworth plans to continue to ride bulls, and possibly, in the near future, become a member of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

To many people, rodeoing might seem like a very dangerous sport, but to Wedgeworth it is an exciting and challenging way of life.

"I know rodeoing is dangerous, but I still love it and want to continue doing it. It just kind of grows on you," Wedgeworth commented.

SPIRIT LIFT — Trela Thomas, Cynthia Reynolds, and Christy Jones lift spirit before the Mesquite game.

To each his own

Baubles, bangles and beads were being worn by many sophomores at CHS. There were several shapes, forms, and fashions of new, stylish necklaces, giving each person an opportunity to pick one that is just right for her.

For the African safari hunter there was the necklace made of carved wooden animals. This necklace would surely bring out the animal in anyone. Other types included ceramic, shell and wood beaded necklaces, not to mention the necklaces decorated by animal teeth.

Although these necklaces may seem, to the uninformed, only added weight instead of a thing of beauty, they became necessary fashion accessories.

The sophomores were enthusiastic and backed the Bulldogs all the way. They especially showed their enthusiasm during the Homecoming spirit chain contest sponsored by the JV cheerleaders.

Each class had a designated color of chain link and the links were sold for ten cents each. At the end of each day, the links were put together to form the classes' chains.

The sophomore class maintained its lead the entire week and were announced the winners at the Homecoming pep rally.

Pressure cooker

They fly, they crawl, they swim, they run, and so do sophomores who have to catch bugs for their fall biology projects. However, bugs are not the only things that sophomores have to deal with. Ask any sophomore, they'll tell you that by the time they have homework in math, biology, American history, English, band, and football practice that 24 hours just isn't enough time to get it done. # Frosh become computer whizzes

A new class was provided for freshmen. Computer literacy took the place of driver's education for half the school year. Freshman students took one semester of health and one semester of computer literacy. "It is very interesting but Miss Clabaugh is the best thing about the class," said freshman Jackie Bush. The course taught the students the basics of using a computer. The students learned to run programs and figure out various problems by using a computer. The history of computers is another subject the students covered. Freshman Stacie Griffith said, "I've learned a lot from the class. Typing I helped me make it easier. Also, Miss Gullette is a great teacher." Computer literacy provided a new twist to the required classes for freshmen.

Hanlon wins first chair in All-Region Band

Practice, practice, practice. For one freshman, Nathan Hanlon, this has paid off in his being selected first chair All-Region Symphonic Band. Nathan was the first CHS freshman to ever receive this honor. Nathan was also the first tenor sax-ophone player from this region to go to the "area cuts", which is he second step to All-State.

Stuart Bird, Band Director at CHS, said, "Nathan practices hard, he works hard, and his chances of making All-State next year are very good." Nathan was modest, saying he felt 'privileged' to receive this honor.

"We are very proud to have such an outstanding musician in our band," said Otis Amy, member of CHS band. For Nathan Hanlon, hard work and dedication to his music paid off greatly this year.

Although some students couldn't stand the eye strain, others cheerfully whipped out their sunglasses and enjoyed the view. It seemed the object of wearing the clothes was to mix the most unlikely colors together, such as a yellow shirt, purple scarf, and pink socks! "Neon" clothes will surely be remembered for a long time for brightening up the students at CHS.

"Driving my life away"

Driver's education was just one program that was changed this year. In the past, freshman students took one semester of health, and one semester of driver's ed. This year, however, driver's ed. was replaced by computer literacy, forcing the students to take the classroom part of driver's education in the morning before school. Also, the price was increased from $60.00 to $160.00.

"This greatly upsets most of us," said one freshman, "We resent the fact that we have to pay more than everyone else. Also, we don't like the early hours."

But all of the freshmen realized that if they wanted their driver's license at sixteen, the extra hardships were necessary.

The 1984-85 Track season went along fairly well for our Eighth Grade Boys' Track Team, as the team finished sixth in the District meet in Palestine.

There were a few stars that came out and really showed their talents during this meet. Among the District finishers were Matt McClure, fourth in the 2 mile run and sixth in the mile run; Daven Williams, third in the 800 meter run; and Paul Scantlihn, fourth in the mile run. There were also two medal winning relay teams among these elite finishers.

LET'S GIVE THE BOYS A HAND — The 1984-85 Junior High Boys' Track Team after finishing a hard meet.

Hard work and long hours lead to success

While most eighth graders were enjoying the last few days of summer, the eighth grade band was busy learning their music for school performances. Hard work and long hours paid off for the groups, who placed 32 students in All-Region categories with 5 alternates.

The 120-member beginner band chose their instruments and learned how to assemble them. They learned the basic pitches and rhythm patterns as well as concepts of balance, blend, and intonation. The band was directed by Doice Grant, Stuart Bird, and Mrs. Sharon Bird.

Five of the 90 students in the seventh grade band made All-Region along with three alternates. They assisted the eighth grade band at pep-rallies. "The band students have been energetic. They worked hard for their accomplishments," said Mrs. Bird.

Twenty-seven of the 80-member eighth grade band along with two alternates made All-Region. "It has been a very successful and enjoyable fourth year for me. The students worked extremely hard all year which is the reason for their success," said Mr. Grant.

All of the home games were rained out, so the marching band couldn't march during football season. They gave a marching performance on their practice field for the parents and friends of the band students in November. "The students did work very hard practicing for their marching performances, and it will pay off when they get into the Carthage High School Band," said Mr. Grant.

Through the combined efforts of both the seventh and eighth grade band members, a total of 102 first class solo and ensemble medals were won.

The seventh and eighth grade symphonic bands participated in the U.I.L. Concert and Sightreading Contest April 19 at Carthage.

SEVENTH GRADE SOLOISTS — The seventh grade band had a total of 21 students win first class solo medals.

BEGINNER BAND — The 120-member beginner band enjoyed learning how to play their instruments and being part of a band.

EIGHTH GRADE SOLOISTS — The eighth grade band had 26 member win first class solo medals at Solo/Ensemble Contest.

EIGHTH GRADE MAJORETTES — Front: Amber Hoffmeister, Tracy Terry, Stephanie Swofford, Angie Greene, 2nd row: Gretchen Warren, Kim Parker, Leah Broach, and Debbie Sharpe.

Seven Carthage Jr. High students made the All Region Choir this year. The tryouts were held in Tyler and the clinic in Palestine. Approximately 750 seventh and eighth graders tried out and 120 were chosen. The seven chosen from Carthage were Shebra Cato, Bridget Goree, Lynn O'Neal, Shellie O'Neal, Kelvin Glasper, Lance McRee, and Starla Simonson. AMAZEMENT — Mrs. Pass stands in awe of her classes test results.

The seventh graders of Carthage Junior High are being introduced to a new class this year. Mrs. Chris Blair, the class instructor, said, "This is just introduction to computers. They will finish the course in high school.

Computer Literacy, is a required course, so every seventh grader must take it. While one group of seventh graders are learning to program their Apple-IIe micrcomputers the other group is taking Occupational Investigation.

The cumpter room is equipped with 25 computers with color monitors, two printers, and a couple of green monitors. The students find this class very educational as well as interesting. "I think that this class is very fun. It is fun doing something different. I know it will help me in the future," said one seventh grade girl.

The students learn data bases, graphics, word processing, and the history of computers in general. The students aren't the only ones to use the word processor to make up tests and other paraphenalia for their class. There are five computers in the library which are designed to go from room to room. All in all, computer literacy proved to be an asset to the seventh graders this year.

After teaching 20 years, Aileen Roberson, homemaking, and Francis Roquemore, T.M.R., plan to retire.

Mrs. Roberson is a graduate of Teneha High School, Panola Junior College, and S.F.A. in Nacogdoches. Retirement will give her more time for her hobbies which are sewing and painting. She also plans to travel with her husband and is looking forward to being with her grand-children. Mrs. Roberson said, "I'm going to do what I want and I'm not going to be on any kind of time schedule."

Mrs. Roquemore is a graduate of Carthage High School and attended Panola Junior College, East Texas Baptist College, and S.F.A. She said, "My husband is planning for us to travel and fish. I will probably do some volunteer work in my spare time."

Both have been an asset to the school for 20 years and their colleagues and students wish them a happy retirement.

The easy life

Kris and Kathy chosen by Eighth

Personality, charm, wit, looks, and the ability to get along. Who knows what the traits are that people look for when selecting clas favorites?

The eighth graders chose Kathy Jones and Kris Lawhorn as their favorites.

Kathy participates in choir and drama. She enjoys talking to her friends on the telephone. Her favorite class is drama. She enjoys eating especially pizza while listening to her favorite rock group, The Time. Her favorite song is "Inspiration," sung by Chicago. Kathy secretly wishes to marry Harrison Ford who is her favorite actor.

Kathy also enjoys going to the show with her friends to see her favorite show "Beverly Hills Cop."

Kris participates in football and track. He enjoys hunting, riding three-wheelers, playing football, and lifting weights. While on his way to see his favorite movie "Beverly Hills Cop," he enjoys listening to his favorite song "Heaven's on Fire." His favorite rock group is Kiss, and pizza is his favorite food. Heather Locklear is his favorite actress whom he secretly wishes to get to know. Kris's favorite car is a Lamborghini.

FAVORITES — Kris Lawhorn and Kathy Jones were chosen as eighth grade favorites.

CLASS OFFICERS — Colin Noble, Reporter; Hoza Scott, secretary/treasurer; Ray Brady, president; Sharon Wilson, vice-president.

RING BELL RING — Mike Watson waits paitently for the bell to ring so he can go to lunch.

ARE YOU SERIOUS? — Mandy Moreland and Laurie Tate can't believe they're gonna have to learn how to cook in homemaking.

Black is back

BE COOL — Tammie Anderson tells Jerry Holt to be cool while she ask him where he got his jacket at.

In a year when parachute pants, fluorescent colors, gloves, baggies, and hightop tennis shoes were in style, one trend from the fifties resurfaced — leather jackets.

One reason for the rising popularity of these jackets was pop star, Michael Jackson and his videos "Beat it" and "Thriller," in which he wore the black shinny jacket while dancing to hit songs.

Sherry Taylor said that she wore her leather jacket because it was in style.

"I got mine because it is cold outside, it's cool, it is in style, and it brings back style of the '50's and '60's," said Doug Yount.

DREAM GIRLS — Sirena Whaley and Starla Simmonson sit and dream of what it will be like in the Miss Panola County Beauty Pageant.

Beauty Shines on Two

"Here she is Miss America" — these are the words two girls at CJH dream of hearing, Id two students at CJH are working toward that day when they just might hear these ords about themselves.

Starla Simonson and Sirena Whaley, both eighth graders at CJH, have been entering auty contests for several years now. Sirena, who entered at 10, has been in about 20 ntests to date. She has won 11 and placed in 15.

"It was just an instinct. I thought it would be fun so I asked my mom and she said we buld give it a try," said Sirena. "You meet the most interesting people," said Sirena. rena has entered the Texas Deep South pageant and Miss Cool World of Beauty.

Starla started entering beauty contests when she saw what fun Sirena was having. arla has been entering beauty contests since age 12 and has placed in every one. She as been in the Emperial Pageant, the Starlite Pageant, and county pageants.

"I don't enter pageants during the winter because I do not want it to take away from y school," said Starla.

Both girls plan on entering the Miss Panola County Pageant when in high school and ho knows where they'll go from there?

Tombstone territory

Do dead men carry tales? Mrs. Sheila Moore's, Gifted and Talented eighth graders visited the Oddfellows Cemetery in October to learn more about local history.

During the field trip they examined the tombstone of Treasurer Dennis C. Hill, who was robbed of county funds and murdered. This was discovered the day the students made the trip to the cemetery.

"It was one of several tombstones which gave insights into the history of Panola County," said Mrs. Moore. The students started their research at the cemetery which led to several different projects. They also wrote an anthology of the area. The students questioned senior citizens who explained some of the markers as well as reasons for new graves being in older sections.

The Gifted and Talented students also researched architectural designs of older buildings in the county.

A HAIR RAISING IDEA — Cory Hays goes to the head of his class with his version of the Snike

Spiked hair makes a point

"Hey Dude, how do you make your hair stand on end?"

"It looks like you stuck your finger in a light socket!"

The Spike impressed the younger students as the latest necessity for social acceptance. Even though wild styles stuck as the Bubble, the Flip, the Beehive, the Pixie, the Shag, and the Wedge preceded the Spike, its exaggerated bouffant flair was unprecedented. Although originally limited to boys, females also spiked up their old styles.

This innovative hairstyle has justifiably been labled "The Spike." The hair appears to be cut in a burr on the top, but the remainder of the hair can be any length. Then the short strands of hair are made to stand up. The strands, when clumped in small groups, resemble points, or spikes.

Contrary to many parents' beliefs, it's not necessary to experience an electrical shock for stylish spike. To achieve the spiked look, one must first have the proper cut. Next, the individual must decide on a method for extending the height of hair. The cut of the hair naturally allows a full wispy strands to stand on end. So, for the consultive type, nothing more is needed. However, others choose a more daring route. Blow-dry the hair while brushing it in an upward direct allows a moderate "poof." Otherwise, a generous amount of mousse and a little blow-drying we together to achieve the ultimate Spike.

The modern concept of fashion seems to "the uglier the better," and the Spike definite follows. The Spike has had no trouble catching as no one wants to be left out. After all, everybooknows, flat hair is history.

Profits aren't chicken feed

A pastime job with short hours, an easy workload, and great pay y seem idealistic, but Dan Smith knows otherwise. Like most le seventh graders, he enjoys sports, parties, and, of course, girls. wever, he prefers using his valuable spare time to get a head rt in the business world.

About two and a half years ago, Dan started raising chickens for dad. Along with his two older brothers, he supervises the growing cks until they are seven weeks old. For one or two hours a day, he ters and feeds the chickens, and twice a week he changes the ter trays. Although it is a job, Dan claims that at times it can be . On occasion, the boys take breaks to spray the chickens or each er with water hoses. Dan also admits that he uses his job as an exse for not doing his homework. Dan jokingly says that when the essure at work becomes too great and the chickens get in his way, just gives them a swift kick, although they sometimes end up in a arby fan.

Dan Smith is one seventh grader that has his priorities straight. It now, he enjoys using his profits for food, clothes, and just as pending money." He plans to continue his job throughout high nool, but he doesn't plan to make a lifetime occupation of it. He indust to go on to college and try out a few other careers. Conseently, his closeness with his work has made chicken one of his vorite dishes.

High-kickin' fun

One of the pastimes enjoyed by many seventh graders this past summer has been flag football. The game is enjoyed by all ages, but especially by the seventh graders, who are not yet eligible to play on the Jr. High school teams. Playing flag football also gives the players experience at being a member of a team.

Flag football is played almost exactly like regular tackle football. The only difference is that instead of tackling someone, the player simply pulls the opposing team member's flag off. At this point, the player is said to be tackled. The flags are fastened on a belt that is worn around the player's waist. One team wears red flags, while the other wears blue ones.

The games are held every Saturday afternoon throughout the summer. There are four teams that participate in the eleven and twelve year old division. Although there is practice during the week for most of the summer, the teams only play a total of six games against other teams.

Flag football gives a player a chance to be a member of a team and learn about cooperation. Along with experience, flag football also gives the player a feeling of responsibility and pride.

Anxiety What's a kid to do?

"Do the older kids like me? Will I ever get done with all of this homework?" These are common questions asked by sixth graders during their first year of junior high school.

It's a big transition from elementary school to junior high school. Responsibilities as well as freedoms increase — more work, more lenient supervision. Most kids feel inferior to the older seventh and eighth graders at first, but soon learn that the "big guys" pose no threat. Also, the increased work load gets many kids down. However, most sixth graders survive their first year of junior high school. After all this year's "little guys" realize that in 1991, they will be first in line.

IS HE NUTS? — Trevor Malone just couldn't adjust to the pressures of junior high school, so he was forced to give in to insanity.

Minor's Association — The Place To Be

Put down your Purple Rain and come do the worm with me . . . This was just one of the ways of getting someone out on the dance floor. But, if dancing wasn't your thing, you could have joined in a game of pool, watched the videos, or just simply visited with your friends in the old fashioned setting of the Minor's Association.

Decorated in "early saloon," with its wooden tables and floors and of course the old fashioned bar, the Minor's Association gives a feeling of being in the old west. Instead of finding cardsharks and gun-slingers, one would only find pool sharks and hip swingers. However, you were brought back into the modern world by the booming stereo system and the outrageous videos played on the giant screen TV.

One sixth grader remarked, "This is a great place to spend our weekends; it's like one big party."

The Minor's Association gives an antique look to a modern world for today's youth.

Making of musicians

Each new school year holds promise of squeaks, squawks, and isses resembling moose calls being emitted into the halls of arthage Junior High from the band hall, and this year was no exption. Beginner band was off with the usual nerve-racking sounds first tries at playing a horn.

Beginner band student Regina Harris chose to play the oboe. She id that she enjoyed playing the oboe, and she felt like she was ining important musical knowledge in beginner band. Regina said at she practiced at least thirty minutes almost every day, and she id that the practice was necessary and worthwhile.

"Practice makes perfect" they say, and the old adage seemed ace again to hold true in the area of beginner band. Little by little and students became better players, and eventually noises turned to music and all was well once more in the halls of Carthage Junior igh.

ANTICIPATION — Debbie Gradberg and Cindy Pugh sort through papers to find out what grade they received.

REARVIEW MIRROR — A familiar sight one sees when leaving the parking lot is the bright red letters of Carthage High School.

FIRST IN LINE

With the ringing of the first bell in August, the CHS students began the long task of completing another year. For the seniors, it was their last year. They had been the first freshman class in the present facility, and they would be the first senior class to have completed all four years in the building. For the underclassmen, this year would be another year on their way to becoming seniors. Although it seemed as if school would last an eternity, by the beginning of football season, we were shaking off the "summer's over blues" and becoming actively involved in academics and activities.

We were beginning to take our place First in Line.

TEXAS ROYALTY — Miss Texas Tamara Hext signs autographs on her visit to CHS.

BASE HIT — Paul Brewster, the District's Player of the Year, shows off his batting form.

JOHNNY APPLESEED LOOK-A-LIKES — Clint Matthews, Todd Thompson, Mike Jones, and Jack Smith have a contest to prove who has the distinction of having the longest hair.

GOOD GRAMMAR — Roger Williams' proud announcement that he "are" a graduate is enough to make any English teacher cringe.

GHOULIES — Monsters and weirdos invaded the Commons area on dress-up day during Homecoming.

FRIENDS FOREVER — Freshman Beth Baker and sophomore Cynthia Reynolds show that age makes no difference in a friendship.

AND THEY'RE OFF! — Excited to have just completed their last day of high school, the seniors race to make the traditional swim across Bulldog Pond.

FRESHMAN BLUES — Walking to homeroom, Kit Kyle demonstrates how she feels about freshmen having to watch assemblies in homeroom.

The CHS students faced the second semester with mixed emotions. The seniors were sad but also happy about graduating. The underclassmen were relieved to know that they had reached the halfway point in the year.

The second semester also brought proof that Carthage High School was First in Line. We dominated in both academics and sports. Several students placed in the District UIL Academic and Literacy Meet. Two of these students, Whitney Reese and Jennifer McNatt advanced to the State Meet. We also received recognition in academics through the number of scholarships and awards presented to students at the Scholarship and Awards Assemblies. Spring sports also brought evidence of our place at the front of the line. The girls' golf team advanced to the regional tournament. The baseball team won the district crown and entered the state playoffs with a victory over Paris. Although they eventually lost to DeSoto, the state's number-two ranked team, they played like true champions and were rewarded by ten players being named to the All-District team and Coach Scott Lee being named Coach of the Year.

Obviously, we maintained our position throughout the year. The dedication, hard work, and desire to achieve excellence kept us First in Line.

COLOPHON

The 1985 Pine Burr — 720 copies in all — was printed by the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, with immeasurable assistance from company representative Ed McMeans. All body copy is Souvenir 10 point, except for captions, which are Souvenir 8 point. Paper stock is 80-pound enamel except pages 1 through 16, which are printed in a 100-pound glossy enamel. Regular headlines are Souvenir Bold. The cover, designed by Kay Lynn Vincent, is embossed with white ink over a red background.

Photographs were supposed to be taken by the photojournalism students, but staffers usually took their own pictures. Some photographs were furnished by the Panola Watchman.

Books sold for $18 and for $25 after November 30, 1984.

Faculty adviser was Mrs. Elaine Timmons

The Pine Burr is a student publication, entirely produced by Mrs. Elaine Timmons' first, second and fifth period classes. Students are responsible for the writing, editing, layout, and photography in the book. Students began the year in August, 1984, by selling advertising. Then, they composed and implemented pages for deadlines in December, February, April, and, finally, May. The students sold the books in November, following a slide show for the students. The Pine Burr students also presented an awards assembly in early May to honor favorites.
